1. INTRODUCTION

Literature nowadays has been used as a tool to express what someone feeling into a beautiful play of words, such as figurative language, or connotative meaning that shown in a literary work. Literature is a literary work, a creation, original and not an imitation. Litterateur creates a new world using their imagination. The spontaneous outpouring of emotion. Some experts have different opinions about literature, it depends on the time, situation, and social condition so many differences in the definition of literature do not change the meaning of literature itself. Literature is said as the medium of expressing ideas. "Understanding exactly what literature is, has always been challenging" (Meyer, 2018).

There are many works of literature such as novels, poetry, movie scripts and so many more. In this study, the writer decided to use a movie script as the object of his analysis. The movie script is a written version of a play or other dramatic composition used in preparing for a performance. Therefore, whether a movie is good or not also depends on the existing movie script.

By understanding movie means understanding an expression of the literary work and an expression of the literary work is mostly created by the act of each character in that movie. The interaction between one people with others becomes easier through language; they can freely communicate with each other. However, while doing communication people will not only use language but also action. So, people have to know how to use a language appropriately in order to understand well when they are communicating with each other; this is called speech acts.(Fitriani et al., 2020)

In presenting the results of the literature review, the author of the final project assignment is only expected to explain the linkages of the referred literature with practical problems and their solutions. The literature that is used as a reference source in the literature review in the final project can be a secondary source, while the reference source in the literature review in the thesis is a primary source and can also be a secondary source. The literature that becomes the reference material in the thesis must come from primary sources (research results in research reports, study seminars, study articles in journals, and thesis or dissertation). In a dissertation, most of the literature reviewed must be in the form of articles published in the latest and reputable international journals.

The movie that people enjoy with the humanity point of view of the captain in The Captain flm. Ths filmTells about the airplane crash experienced by Shichuan Airlines flight 8633 from Chongqing to Lhasa. Captain Liu is ready to fly the airplane with the two co-captains. Then Sichuan Airlines experienced emergency turbulence, resulting in the cockpit windshield suddenly shattering.. 3.  What is the moral message from the humanity in the movie The Captain directed by Andrew Lau?

2.   LITERATURE REVIEW

These reviews are expected to serve important background information to support the study and the discussion of the findings. It is divided into three subtopics:  (a)  definition of literature, (b) definition of movie, and  (c)definition of humanistic.

2.1 Definition of Literature

Literature is an expression of human expression in the form of written or oral works based on thoughts, opinions, experiences, feelings in an imaginative form, a reflection of reality or original data wrapped in aesthetic packaging through language media. And below is the definition according to each expert:

According to Mursal (1978), "literature is the expression of artistic and imaginative facts as a manifestation of human life and society through language as a medium and have a positive effect on human life (humanity)".

According to Sangidu (2004), "literature is part of society, a fact that inspires authors to involve themselves in the life order of the community where they are and try to fight for the position of the social structure and the problems faced in society".

According to Saini (1988), "define literature as an expression of the human person in the form of experiences, thoughts, feelings, ideas, enthusiasm, beliefs, in the form of concrete images that evoke charm with language tools. In this connection, it appears that the role of feeling is quite large in the process of studying or writing literature".

From the above statement, it can be concluded that literature covers a lot of scope, from creative writing, such as fiction, poetry, and drama, to scientific writing. Literary works may use connotative words to express positive things (language, lovely images, and positive experiences) and also negative things (suffering, melancholy, death, and tragedy) to make readers feel the emotions the authors put into their works by using words and share experiences.

Literary works are creations that conveyed communicatively for aesthetic purposes. According to (Tamara, 2019) Bressler says, literature is a work of imaginative or creative writings. It means literature written with imaginative and creative, so it makes the readers get an idea of what the author pours.

In the other hand, according to (Mu'in, 2021) "Literature is a creative and imaginative work; it records human lives or experiences using a language as its medium." Literature is not just a beautiful word, but the skills using language that shaped and worth. Literature could give pleasure or delight for the reader and motivation. In addition (Mu'in, 2021) added "As a result of recording the human experiences, literature may register and reflect the various aspects of culture such as norms or morality, technological tools, economic system, family, political power, etc." Furthermore, learning literature is meant to know literature based on literary systems. It is also meant to learn a language.

Literature relates to other disciplines, the science of psychology. According to (Emir, 2016) in the Khazar Journal of Humanities and Social Sciences titled Literature and Psychology in the Context of the Interaction of Social Sciences states that "Literature and psychology are two branches of science that study human soul." Psychology studies human behaviors and their causes while literature depicts human behavior through fiction. His also noted that "A literary work benefits from psychology in terms of successfully presenting characters, expressing their moods, and bringing the reader into the psychological dimension of human reality" Literature and study of Psychology meet in their focus on phantasies, emotions and human soul.

Based on the statement above it can be said literature is a work of art that always presents a conflict or dispute inside. Why do people like to see violent movies or detective movies, and so on? Everything was interesting because it contains literature and conflicts or disputes that act is the basis. Not just as a spectacle, but more importantly will contain an interesting audience or reader to enjoy the story. And that literature which has various kinds of beauty in it.

2.2 Definition of Movie

Movies are the oldest electronic media compared to other electronic media. The existence of films is phenomenal, because it is able to show a live image on the screen. Since its appearance, the film has been liked by people all over the world. Even films have become an inseparable part of human life. And below is the definition according to each expert:

Bazin (2004) states that "cinema was not an art at all, at least not in the first place an art. It is home, he argued, lies not in the heavens of aesthetics but solidly, even clumsily, on this earth to whose material surface it is bound". A movie or motion pictures is a work of visual art used to simulate experiences that communicate ideas, stories, perceptions, feelings, beauty, or atmosphere through the use of moving images. These elements are shown by a story that contains the desired message delivered by the director to the film audience. The process of film making is both an art and an industry. Movies were originally recorded to plastic film which was shown through a movie projector to large screen.

Hornby states, "movie means a series of moving picture recorded with sound that tells a story, shown at cinema/movie" in (Serao & Caesar, 2019). Knowledge and wisdom have been passed on through the art of storytelling. Stories will offer different perspectives and help one to understand the world. And movies are stories.

1. The types of films are divided into at least 3 (three) types, among others;

a. The Movie of Story

Story the movie or in English known as a story the movie is a type of movie that is considered to contain a common story to be shown in theaters by using or playing a famous movie star and is also distributed as merchandise (subject to profit). The stories that are adopted in this type of movie can be in the form of fiction or based on true stories which are later modified, so that there are interesting elements, both from the storyline and from the perspective of the audience (viewers) who witnessed this the movie.

b. Documentary of The Movies

The definition of a documentary movie is a movie that tells the story of a complete journey, from the beginning to the end. Where in this documentary movie there are no imaginary or fictional stories. This type of movie has an identity with a very long timeline.

c. Cartoon

Cartoon movies are a type of movie that is played by animated images, for example, such as Doraemon, Naruto, Shinchan, and so on. This cartoon the movie is not played by humans, but by utilizing technological media such as computers and graphic design.

From the above statement, it means that movies are not only an entertainment media, but also can be defined as the perfect visualization of human activities in real life. Movie offer many interesting parts of it because movie created by combination of arts that makes it pleasurable to saw, it is also perfect thing to accommodate anti ainstream ideas, because movie able to capture every particular things and make it delicate to become appropriate and acceptable in the real life beside to entertain trough movie, someone able to learn about moral value, every movie contains moral values which make it more aesthetic, the values of movie can be applied in real livebetween the red beauty and the promise of the rose that blooms with the lips of the woman depicted.

2.3 Definition of Humanistic

Humanity is a universal attitude that must be possessed by every human being in the world who can protect and treat humans in accordance with human nature which is human. Nurgiyantoro (2002), humanity means "classifies moral messages into three types, namely the moral relationship between humans and themselves, the moral relationship between humans and other humans, and the moral relationship between humans and God".

From the above statement in the view of humanity, it can be concluded that humanity is a physical and spiritual activity in order to maximize the development process. Whereas narrowly, learning is defined as an effort to master science as a series of overall personality formation. Physical growth does not provide behavioral development. Change or development is only caused by the learning process such as changes in habits, various abilities in terms of knowledge, attitudes and skills. Humans are in control of their lives and behavior, and have the right to develop their attitudes and personalities. Still in the view of humanism, learning aims to make humans human. Learning success is marked when students recognize themselves and their surroundings well. Students are faced with targets to achieve the maximum possible level of self-actualization.

2.4 Kind of Humanistic Value

From the movie the researchers found human values. Namely cooperation, courage, responsibility, perseverance, hard work. The following is the definition of each of the above humanity.

1. The Cooperation

Cooperation is helping each other in carrying out an activity to realize a common goal.

According to Johnson (2014), "cooperation is a grouping that occurs among living things we know. Cooperation or learning together is a process (in groups) in which members support and rely on each other to achieve a consensus. The classroom is an excellent place to build group (team) skills, which you will need later in life".

From the above statement, it can be concluded that cooperation is an interaction or relationship between one person and another to achieve a goal. Relationships of mutual respect, mutual care, mutual assistance and mutual encouragement will help achieve goals. The learning includes changes in behavior, increasing understanding and absorption of knowledge.

2. The Courage

Courage is having the heart to face the fear, danger or challenge that is needed in defending the truth along with confidence in the face of adversity. According to Budiyono (2007), "courage is the quality of the soul that does not know the fear of criticism, but makes people continue it with calm and fortitude in the face of it". The value of courage is the nature of never being afraid to face challenges. In a positive perspective, courage is aimed at defending the truth. Courage is a quality of the soul that is not afraid of criticism, but makes people proceed with calm and patience in the face of it.

3. The Responsibility

Responsibility is human awareness of intentional or unintentional behavior or actions. Responsibility can be a manifestation of awareness and obligation for humans. Responsibility is intended as a condition in which all actions or actions or attitudes are the embodiment of moral values. According to Abu (2007), "responsibility is the difference between right and wrong, what is allowed and what is forbidden, what is recommended and what is prevented, what is good and what is bad. And realize that you have to stay away from everything that is negative and try to build yourself to always use positive things". A responsible person can get happiness, because he can fulfill his obligations well. Happiness can be felt by himself or many people. On the other hand, an irresponsible person will face difficulties, because he does not carry out his obligations properly and certainly does not follow the rules, norms and values that apply. In addition, the manifestation of responsibility is also in the form of dedication and sacrifice. Devotion and sacrifice good deed for the benefit of man himself.

4. The Perseverance

Perseverance is working, learning and trying as much as possible, so with sincerity and strong determination can be used as an example for others and give results to himself. According to Busro (2018), "perseverance in independent learning has a strong impact on the level of achievement achieved by students by increasing the relationship between perseverance and the learning process of students". It means that perseverance is a person is ability to earnestly get what he wants. Because the begin our progress by advancing our hearts, then our minds and all of us. Perseverance comes when what we do really comes from our heart.

5. The Hard Work

Hard work is an activity that is carried out in earnest without getting tired or stopping before the work target is achieved and always prioritizing or paying attention to the satisfaction of the results in every activity carried out. Hard work can be interpreted as having a serious nature to achieve the goals to be achieved, enthusiastic and trying hard to achieve good and maximum results. According to Gunawan (2012), "hard work is a behavior that shows a serious effort in overcoming various obstacles in order to complete the task (study or work) as well as possible". It means hard work is a commendable characteristic that everyone should have. With hard work we will also get a lot of valuable life experience. The series of processes that we go through during hard work will provide many things that are stored neatly in our memory. All these processes will make us wiser, more grateful and more patient.

Symbolism is a kind of figure speech that uses symbol of animal, plants, or things for substitute something. Symbolism established from the result of personal, experience or fantasies. For example "Pretend to apologize as well as a chameleon looking for a gap for camouflage."

| Captain Liu: | "How long does the oxygen supply last?" |
| Co-Captain: | "Fifty – five minutes". |
| Captain Liu: | "And the critical point?" |
| Co-Captain: | "PARGU". |
| Captain Liu: | "Check procedures for cabin depressurization". |

Flight Attendant Manager: "Flying over the Tibetan plateau is atypical. In case of emergency, we need to first protect ourselves, but also care for the passengers. If they are nervous, what do we say to calm them down?"

Flight Attendants:          "Please, trust us. We are trained professionally. We are confident that we can ensure your safety".

From above the movie, it can be concluded that must be carried out based on all procedures that have been agreed upon by the captain and flight attendants who work together, so that it becomes a necessity in realizing work success and a driving force that has energy and synergy for the individuals who are members.

Cooperation in this movie, human life is in the hands of God and the captain. If careless captain flies the airplane, then the airplane crash can become real. And if the plane is technicians or systems fail, then the airplane crashing into a mountain becomes real. Mutual cooperation on this matter.

Courage in this movie, the weather or a certain type of cloud is a prophecy for every captain. Weather information, wind direction and speed are very important in every flight. But here the captain had the courage to fly the airplane despite the turbulence of very strong storm clouds. The airplane experienced severe turbulence and shattered the windshield and injured the co-pilot. Captain Liu still dared to fly the plane and tried to communicate via radio and then suddenly it did not work. Not only that, their flight was interrupted and not monitored while in the Tibetan plateau. At that time, the cockpit windshield opened and shattered causing the co-pilot to be injured. The incident led the pilot and crew to prepare for an emergency landing. Captain Liu tried to remain calm to deal with it.

From the scenes above, the co-captain glass cracked and was immediately shattered and perforated causing the co-captain to be sucked out and the passengers began to lose consciousness due to low pressure. The state of emergency was immediately imposed, radio communication not working and there is no nearby airport as an emergency landing site.

The responsibility in this movie, even though the turbulence of the storm clouds shook very strongly, after going round and round and Captain Liu trying to get through the storm clouds, then at that moment Captain Liu remembered his daughter is birthday. And the only way Captain Liu had to land his plane at the nearest Airport, namely Chengdu Airport, the only option to save the passengers and all those on board. Meanwhile, Captain Liu analyzed the storm clouds in front of him. The decisions taken are very heavy that will determine whether or not everyone on the plane is safe or not. Captain Liu maneuvered and turned the plane around to find an opening into the storm clouds. When the plane entered into a storm cloud, there was very strong turbulence, because passengers in the cabin felt the shock and panicked. From the scenes above, when the plane shakes, there is a flashback that reminds Captain Liu of his little princess. Not only here, but all passengers are also like that and they are looking forward to meeting their families. The hysterics got even more chaotic when the plane they were traveling in turned around. Everyone panicked, why did this happen. However, Captain Liu had perseverance in him and still struggled to fly his plane despite the shocks.

Perseverance in this movie, miracles began to happen when Sichuan 8633 began to be detected again, this was all thanks to the efforts and perseverance of captain Liu who was assisted by the co-pilot and flight attendants as well as the passengers who were willing to cooperate and the prayers of those left behind. Finally, Sichuan Airlines 3U8633 managed to land safely at Chengdu airport. Never give up and it is important for us to trust all captains and flight attendants, because they are trained every day to ensure the safety of passengers.

4.1.5 Hard Work

Hard work is an activity that is carried out in earnest without getting tired or stopping before the work target is achieved and always prioritizing or paying attention to the satisfaction of the results in every activity carried out. Hard work can be interpreted as having a serious nature to achieve the goals to be achieved, enthusiastic and trying hard to achieve good and maximum results. And there are some dialogues and pictures as follows:

From the scenes above, captain Liu worked hard so that the plane he was flying could still be controlled, even though he wanted to give up, but captain Liu still in principle returned to his waiting family and saved the lives of 119 passengers and the entire airplane team who worked together according to existing procedures.

Hard work in this movie, Captain Liu is a great character, as he is ready to work hard to save everyone flying with him, even if the captain himself is injured. The captains and flight attendants struggled to land safely.

It is the humanity aspect of a captain named Liu Changjian who saved everyone on board Sichuan Airlines 8633. From a humanitarian point of view, captain Liu had courage to fly the airplane, despite the very strong turbulence. Then the only way is for captain Liu to land the plane at the nearest airport, namely Chengdu Airport. Meanwhile, captain Liu analyzed the storm clouds in front of him. The decision taken by captain Liu is difficult because it will determine whether everyone on the airplane is safe. Captain Liu struggles to save passengers by maneuvering and turning the plane to find a gap in the storm clouds. When the airplane entered a storm cloud, there was overpowering turbulence.

Perseverance on the captain to increase the speed of the airplane and pull the levers of the airplane with all his might and finally made it through the Tibetan Mountains. Captain Liu was responsible for saving this flight. From this incident, thanks to the efforts and then perseverance of the captain Liu who was assisted by the co-captain and flight attendants and passengers who were willing to cooperate and pray for all those left behind. Do not give up and it is important for us as passengers to trust all captains and flight attendants, as they are trained every day to ensure the safety of passengers.

In addition to the cooperation between captain, flight attendants and passengers, here is God Almighty and God is Good for still protecting them from airplane turbulence, even though they did not reach their destination, namely Lhasa. Captain Liu is hard-working and is a great character, as he is ready to work to save all those who fly with him.
